How Sitagliptin Works

Sitagliptin treats type 2 diabetes uniquely: it adjusts its activity based on your body's current glucose needs. Sitagliptin works harder when blood sugar levels are high (such as after a meal) and eases off when levels are normal or low. This reduces the risk of excessively low blood sugar (hypoglycemia).

The retail cost of these popular branded medications often exceed $600 per month. Marley Drug offers generic sitagliptin for $80.

By partnering with Zydus Pharmaceuticals, we bypass wholesalers and insurance intermediaries, which contribute to high medication costs.

- Effective: Sitagliptin lowers A1C by 0.7% in those already taking metformin. This reduction is significant, as A1C levels reflect long-term blood sugar control, and even a small decrease can improve health outcomes.
- Safe: Sitagliptin is well-tolerated, with a low risk of adverse drug interactions, hypoglycemia (low blood sugar) or gastrointestinal issues, making it a safe option for many patients.
- Affordable: The cost of generic sitagliptin is $80/month which is 80% less than the brand.
- Convenient: Get it delivered to your home. Order online, or over-the-phone.

All you have to do is ask your doctor to send the prescription to Marley Drug.
